Living Stones Built Together for More than One Hundred Years

Come to Jesus, a living stone, though rejected by mortals yet chosen and precious in God's sight, and like living stones, let yourselves be built into a spiritual house, to be a holy priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. 1 Peter 2:4-5

When my grandmother's cousin turned 100 years old, our family drove from Illinois to Michigan to celebrate with her. I had only met Rena a few times in person, but my grandmother told me about her cousin, Rena, many times when I was a child. So when her 100th birthday came around, my husband, our children, my parents, and I went to be part of the celebration. It was a big deal.

English Lutheran celebrated their 100th anniversary as a congregation on the weekend of June 11th and 12th. It was a big deal. Current members and former members attended. Several pastors who served the congregation also returned along with two members of the congregation who currently serve as ELCA pastors. Friends from the community past and present joined in the celebration. It was a big family reunion. Everyone worked hard to get ready. The inside and outside of the church building were looking great. Stories were told. Memories were shared.

When you start to dig beneath the surface, you find there's more to each story. English is celebrating 100 years in 2022. COVID-19 precautions pushed the celebration back a bit. When reading through the history, it seems the 100th could have been celebrated as early as 2019. The 75th anniversary book says, "One day [in 1919] a missionary to this area, Rev. Hans H. Groth was preaching at the Reformed Church [in Medina] and asked how many of the people present were Lutheran. Eight people raised their hands. The first steps to organizing the Lutheran church were started soon after. Rev. Hans H. Groth came from Steele to preach. He came by the #8 train in the afternoon and went back on #7 the next day." Confirmation classes began in September of 1919. Formal organization of the congregation is recognized by the Eastern North Dakota Synod as being established in 1921.

I think about the eight people who raised their hands in 1919. These eight people and their families and friends had been connecting with God and with each other in their homes and in their hearts. On that day, sitting at the Reformed Church in Medina, they said, we'd like to start a Lutheran Church in Medina so we can worship together in ways that share our Lutheran traditions with the people of our community. We'd like our understanding of how God's grace saves us through faith in Jesus Christ to be part of the Christian conversation in our community.

Thirty miles to the east, something similar happened with the Scandinavian Lutherans who started Trinity Lutheran in Jamestown in 1911. Nineteen miles to the south, it was the Lutherans in Streeter who started St. Luke in 1908. By the time English Lutheran was holding their first worship services, the German Lutherans in Jamestown had been worshipping together as St. John's for more than thirty-five years. They were organized in 1885, four years before North Dakota was granted statehood.

In 1982, the Medina-Streeter Parish was formed with the intention that this realignment would allow the congregations to have a better outreach in the area. (History booklet.) For nearly forty years, the Medina-Streeter Parish has served the people of these communities. It was with great respect for those who had the vision to begin St. Luke Lutheran in 1908 and with gratitude for the many people baptized, raised, married, prayed for, served by, and buried from St. Luke through 114 years, that the current members and former members attended a closing service on May 15, 2022 at St. Luke Lutheran in Streeter. Friends from the community past and present joined in the service. It was a big family reunion. Everyone worked hard to get ready. The inside and outside of the church building were prepared for the occasion. Stories were told. Memories were shared. Tears were shed. Thanks was given to God for the ministry of the congregation and its members.

As eight congregations (each well past their 100th anniversary celebrations except for the youngest of the group, Atonement Lutheran in Jamestown at only 59 years old) look to the future together we ask, how is Jesus inviting us to let ourselves be built into a spiritual house? How are we chosen and precious in God's sight? What will God be doing next to connect the people of our communities with God and with each other?

I invite you to pray this prayer often during the coming months. It is from the ELCA resources for the celebration of a congregation's anniversary and is fitting for us all at this point in our lives and ministry together.

*We give thanks to you for the members and the ministry of this congregation:
for those who had the vision to begin this congregation,
those who sustain its present ministry, and those who will carry its mission forward into the future.*

By July 15—

-All congregations ready to support the first set of goals will appoint one member to be the local coordinator for shared communication (if this were a board, they would be the board member) and will begin the implementation steps toward the goals.

By August 20 –

-English and St. John's will each select 3 members to serve on a joint call committee to seek an additional pastor to serve the two congregations with Pastor Erik Weber and be supportive of building area ministry teams. One of the specific areas of experience and responsibility for the pastor will be teaching confirmation classes. The ideal candidate will live in the parsonage in Medina. The team will have a meeting scheduled with Pastor Brad Skogen (Associate with the EAND Synod Bishop) to start the call process.

-Zion, Christ the King, Emmanuel, and Immanuel will each select 2 members to serve on a joint call committee to seek an additional pastor to serve with Pastor Lucinda Lien in this area and be supportive of building area ministry teams. One of the specific areas of experience and responsibility for the pastor will be visitation.

-Atonement and Trinity will each select 3 members including one high school sophomore or junior from each congregation to hire a Director of Youth and Family Ministries to coordinate youth ministries for the whole area and be supportive of building area ministry teams. One of the specific areas of experience and responsibility will be equipping parents and other authentic, attentive, active adults to be primary chaperones and leaders for local youth ministry. This role will involve communication with the leaders and with the youth and families about opportunities for youth. 250 Personal Care Kits were assembled. The kits are distributed through Lutheran World Relief where they are needed most. Each kit contains a small dark colored bath towel, 2 bars of soap, a sturdy comb, a toothbrush, and nail clippers. Pastor Trichelle Kirchenwitz was one of the organizers of this project.

Synod Assembly Recap – June 2022

One hundred eighty-eight lay leaders and eighty-six Rostered leaders gathered in Fargo on June 4-5 for the Eastern North Dakota Synod assembly. A Synod is one of the three expressions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. We are most familiar with the local congregation that gathers for worship and is visible in our community. When we gather together, we become something new- a Synod. Together we elect a Bishop to provide leadership, we make plans to spend our shared resources, we learn about ministries of the wider church, and we engage in worship, learning, and service. Our Synod is one of 65 in the ELCA. Our Bishop Tessa Moon-Lieseth presided at the assembly. The theme of the Assembly this year is “Called to Serve”. It is taken from our Synod mission statement, “Jesus Christ calls us to live in love as we serve, equip, and challenge God’s people.”

Together the assembly adopted a budget for the Synod, elected members of the Synod Council and various standing committees, heard reports from mission partners such as the ELCA Foundation (Rev. Keith Pearson, who led the Legacy Planning event at Trinity on May 1st), and we heard reflections from people throughout the Synod who are “Called to Serve.”

A resolution adopted: 2023 Compensation and Policy Guideline for Rostered Ministers and Lay Paid Staff

Each year the Synod publishes these guidelines that seek to ensure that “compensation decisions can be made in such a way that God’s mission flourishes, staff are cherished as servants of God, and there is a sense of faithful partnership between congregation and staff to ensure all areas of the church’s ministry thrive.”

A resolution adopted: Called to Welcome All People

The Eastern North Dakota Synod has affirmed its support for full participation of gay and lesbian members in our congregations in 1989 and 2013. This year’s resolution encourages each congregation to continue to seek out ways to be truly welcoming for all, especially those who have suffered alienation and harm because of their sexual orientation. This could include discussions about becoming a Reconciling in Christ congregation and showing support for the care and protection of LGBTQIA+ people.

A resolution adopted: Love Your Neighbor as Yourself: Welcoming Refugees and Immigrants

After the bankruptcy and shut down of Lutheran Social Services (LSSND) in January 2021, North Dakota lost a key partner in Refugee resettlement operations. Lutheran Immigration and Refugee Services, the national organization, stepped in to open its first office in Fargo to continue the work of refugee welcoming and resettlement. Each congregation in the synod is encouraged to monitor news affecting migrants and refugees, commit to at least one financial donation to LIRS or another refugee resettlement agency, and to providing at least

A resolution referred: Files of Rostered Ministers

The assembly referred a resolution concerning the files of Rostered Leaders to the Synod Council for additional discussion and action.

*The next Synod Assembly will take place on June 3-4, 2023.

How can people at English get involved with the Eastern North Dakota Synod?

“The synod has resources that people can access to make an impact. For example, Keith Pearson of the ELCA Foundation can meet with you, at no cost to you, as you are thinking about your financial legacy planning. Maybe reducing hunger in the world is something that matters to you. He can help you make ELCA World Hunger part of your legacy plan.” - Jon Lillejord

“Get involved in mission ideas. The Personal Care Kits that were put together at the Synod Assembly are an example of a project that can be done locally by a small or large group of people.” - Shar Gumke

“At last year’s Assembly, I went to an Advocacy and Action meeting. During this past year, I have attended Zoom meetings of this group. We’re working on an October event for ELCA World Hunger. I also stay up to date on refugee resettlement in North Dakota. Care of creation is another topic of interest to this group” - Erin Klein

Renaë Olson serves as Jamestown Cluster Representative for the Synod Women of the ELCA

Jon Lillejord was elected to serve his second term on the Synod Council.

Russ Sunderland and Pastor Susan Haukaas both currently serve on the Synod Endowment Committee.

Pastor Erik Weber serves on the Synod Candidacy Committee (working with people who wish to serve as rostered ministers.)

Pastor Kristi Weber was elected to serve on the Consultation Committee (can be called on to work in situations when congregations and leaders are experiencing conflict.)
